I'm using C# with Twitter API v1.1 for generating Tweets on my web site. The problem is that I want to send different Tweets with more than one search parameters, such as "tesr", "tesr", "tesr", "tesr", "tesr", etc. If I send only one search parameter, it will search in the word "tesr" in the Tweet text. But if I send more than one search parameters, for example, "tesr", "tesr", "tesr", "tesr", "tesr", "tesr", "tesr", "tesr",... the code will search the keyword in the Tweet text and show the Tweet number. The same search keywords can search in the Tweet text for more than one Tweet. How can I solve this problem? Thanks. A: twitter api can't provide you this kind of search.what you can do is you can send multiple tags and it will search only for that tags. You can use sample to search for the "test" tag. This can help you to get this result. 21-12-2019 08:22 AM 3 posts in this topic This is probably going to be a silly question and I hope someone else with an easier time with Japanese can answer it.
